Use federal revenue for city wages

Granite City finance officials resorted to the use of federal revenue sharing funds Monday night to meet May claims and a two-week payroll.

City Council members, informed by City Treasurer Paul Rutledge that the payroll could not be met unless revenue sharing money were used, approved a resolution transferring $130,000 from one revenue sharing account and $50,000 from another into the city's regular operating accounts.

The action was necessary, Rutledge said, because regular operating funds had been depleted to a balance that was far short of meeting a claim list totaling $100,944, a payroll for the last half of May amounting to $86,183, and sick leave payments for employees amounting to $2,375.

The city has been faced with serious financial difficulties because of the expenditure of $1.6 million during the past year to finance repair of sanitary sewer breaks in the Nameoki area. The repair costs took much of the city's operating fund that normally would have gone for other purposes.

Council members approved a resolution appropriating $130,000 in federal revenue sharing money that had been budgeted in the second entitlement period for stormwater drainage purposes, and $50,000 from the balance of the revenue sharing funds of entitlement period four (funds which have not yet been budgeted).

The resolution provides, however, that the stormwater drainage appropriation of the second entitlement period will be replaced from funds to be received later this year during the city's fifth entitlement period.

Although May claims totaled $100,944, the council agreed to separate $48,746 and voted not to pay that amount due G.H. Sternberg & Co. as final payment for construction of the Johnson Road improvement.

The action was taken on a motion by Alderman Emerald Daves who said there are some defective curbs that have not been replaced and that "I believe we should get a good job before we pay this money."

Alderman Sam Whitmer cast the only negative vote against the action.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said he believed the job was acceptable and that the state has given verbal approval of the Johnson Road job. Brewer said the state would not issue a written acceptance of the work.

The driver of the other vehicle, Luther Torleumke, 36, a commercial fisherman of Grafton, also was killed.

Torleumke's wedding ring was found in the median of the four-lane highway and collided with Woods' eastbound truck.

Police reported a 14-year-old boy, told them Torleumke's truck had grazed his bicycle just before the crash.

Optimists told of Y programs

An effort is being made to bring better YMCA service to the Quad-Cities, according to Harold Rudolph, executive "Y" director who was guest speaker at the Thursday noon meeting of the Optimist Club in the YMCA.

Rudolph explained that instead of its present 1300 membership, the YMCA should be serving 2,400.

He said the staff and board of directors are working on new programs and ideas for better use of the facilities.

There is no immediate plan for seeking a new building, but efforts to renovate parts of the building are underway, Rudolph said.

The Optimist plan to meet on Thursday (Memorial Day) and will have William Sherrard from the State Department of Conservation as guest speaker.

Donald Van Horn, executive vice-president of the American National Bank, was the guest of Optimist Dave Giese.

Mattingly, Sheridan moneysignors

MSGR. LAWRENCE MATTINGLY

The Rev. Lawrence J. Mattingly, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, and the Rev. Paul Sheridan, vice-chancellor of the Springfield Diocese and chaplain of St. Joseph Home for the Aged, Springfield, a former Granite Cityan, have been elevated to moneysignor rank by Pope Paul VI.

Information received here Friday noted that six priests in the Springfield diocese have received the high honor.

The Rev. Sheridan has served for the past 10 years at St. Joseph Home.

He was born on Nov. 26, 1931, in Granite City and attended St. Ambrose College, Davenport, Ia., where he received his bachelor degree.

Father Sheridan began studying for the priesthood at North American College in Rome and continued his education at the Gregorian University, Rome, where he earned a master's degree in sacred theology. He was ordained Dec. 16, 1956, by Archbishop M. J. O'Connor in Rome.

After he returned to the Springfield diocese, he was appointed assistant pastor of St. Matthew Church, Alton, where he served from 1967 to 1969.

Rev. Sheridan then returned to the Lateran University in Rome for graduate study from 1969 to 1974, receiving a doctorate degree in canon law.

When he returned to this country, he began his appointment at St. Joseph Home.

He is a son of Mrs. Edna

Annex 22 acres

Annexation of a 22.6-acre tract of land in northeast Granite City for which a residential development is proposed was approved unanimously by the City Council Monday night.

The action was taken on a petition by the Morris Investment Co. and brings into the city a now-vacant tract in an area between Stratford Lane, Mockingbird Lane, Worthen Park and a point south of Parkview Drive.

The annexation was approved on a roll call vote without discussion, although the council had held up action on the petition in its May 20 meeting to give the aldermen time to find out more about the project.

Although the petition gave no details as to use of the land, Ralph Morris, Granite City alderman, said a plan for subdividing the area has been prepared and present plans call for eventual construction of 60 "luxury-type" homes on the site.

He said plans call for construction of homes ranging in cost from $50,000 upward.

Approval of the annexation ordinance followed action a week ago in which the council accepted a plan for subdivision of a tract between D'Lynn and Shilene drives, and Hamilton Drive and Harrison Avenue for development of Northland Estates No. 4 and Northland Estates No. 5.

The plan was approved upon assurance by the petitioners that annexation procedures will follow immediately. The plan projects construction of 52 new homes in the two new subdivisions.

Asst. City Attorney Eric Robertson informed council members that easement problems for improvement of the Nameoki Road-Johnson and Fehling Road intersection by the state, including a new traffic signal system with left turn provisions, have been solved.

As a result, Mayor Paul Schuler said he has discussed the project with District Highway Engineer Robert Krone and was told it is probable the project will be included in a June 28 bid call.

The Nameoki-Johnson-Fehling roads project is planned under the TOPICS program (Traffic Operations Program for Improvement of Capacity and Safety) for which the city's share of the work will be financed with motor fuel tax funds.

Schuler announced the appointment of Cassner Skubiah as air pollution investigator for the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board. The salary will be $600 monthly for the new position.

Mayor Schuler also appointed Ed Moore as a member of the City Plan Commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Henry Lueders, and appointed Herman Schroeder to a new term on the City Plan Commission, expiring April 30, 1978. He also appointed Jan Paulos as an employee at the sewage treatment plant to fill a

The Rev. Mattingly has been a priest 40 years and pastor of St. Elizabeth Church for the past 21 years.

A native of Paris, Ill., Father Mattingly was ordained June 10, 1953.

After ordination, he spent a year at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. and then became an assistant at Pana, Ill., for eight years.

For 10 years after that he served at Greenup and Casey, Ill. In 1962, he was given his present assignment as pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church.

The church at that time was located in Mitchell, and since has moved to its present location at the corner of Pon-tion and Johnson Roads in Granite City.

In addition to his pastoral duties, Father Mattingly has found time for outside service. He is a member of the Granite City Ministerial Association, has been Dean of the Alton Diocese since 1970, and is active in the Knights of Columbus.

vacancy. The council occurred in all appointments.

Alderman Sam Whitmer asked that the city attorney bring in for council con-sideration an ordinance that would "put a high fee on or otherwise control" the operations of palm readers.

Whitmer noted there now is no law under which such operations can be controlled.

"We've been able to ef-fectively do something about X-rated movies and massage parlors and I would like to see some controls on palm readers and similar activities," Whitmer said.

Awarding of a contract to furnish a metal lathe was discussed, but final action was not taken until the equipment is checked.

The board approved a two-month leave of absence for Mrs. Shirley Goff.

In other action the board rehired clerical aids for the next school year. Aids hired were: Rosalie Beelling, Louise Jimereson, Joyce E. Walker, Viola M. Lewis, Adele Wasylak, Betty J. Rogers, Eleanor F. Vrabec, Marie Hlava, Olga Kube.

Illegal new car sales

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett said Monday his office has determined that some car buying services are illegally selling new cars in Illinois through company franchised car brokers.

Howlett said that under the Illinois Vehicle Code, all dealers selling new cars must be licensed in writing by the secretary of state.

In a letter to Attorney General William J. Scott, Howlett said that the Illinois general office take action.

He said none of the franchised new car brokers had obtained a license to sell or deal in motor vehicles from the secretary of state.

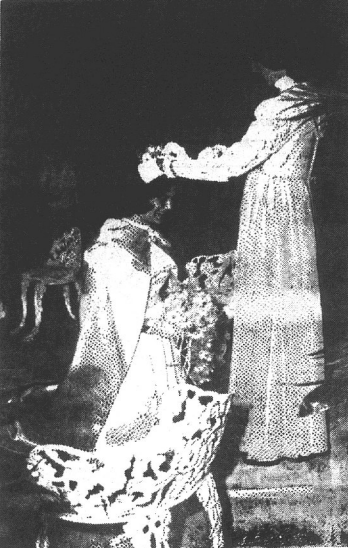

Howlett cited in the letter an Illinois law stipulating that "no person shall engage in the business of selling or dealing in consignment or otherwise, new vehicles of any make or represent or advertise that he is so engaged or intends to so engage in such business unless licensed to do so in writing by the secretary of state under the provisions of this section."

Howlett clarified in the letter to Scott that his office recently received several communications in regard to activities of the Consumer Auto Buying Service of Illinois and the Automobile Marketing Corporation, Inc. Both companies are headquartered in Wayne, Pa., while CABS Corp. has an auxiliary office in Schaumburg, Ill.

Also included in Howlett's letter to Scott was a request that action be taken to settle the question quickly rather than have multiple litigations in numerous counties in Illinois.

Illinois codes are designed to protect the consumer, Howlett stressed. The Department of Motor Vehicles of the secretary of state's office grants a dealer license only after intensive investigation on an applicant's character and financial condition and operation of the business facilities, he said.

May Day stalker foiled

What price fame?

It all depends on the judge, a 15-year-old boy who lives on Edison Avenue will learn.

The lad streaked across the Granite City High School South gym floor Friday evening during May Day festivities from the boys locker room to the rear doors. He streaked toward the cafeteria where another youth was waiting with a getaway bicycle.

However, the young stalker was not faster than the law, as a Granite City police officer caught him and caught him as he reached the bike.

The youth was charged with indecent conduct and released to the custody of an angry parent, according to police.

School officials indicated they intend to prosecute the youth. Police reported the lad was "dressed" in a red ski mask and tennis shoes and socks. His body was covered with baby oil to make it difficult for anyone to capture him. The officer caught the boy by grasping him by the hair on his head.

After he was caught, the youngster asked policeman how much his fine would be. He was advised that it was up to a judge, but that it might be about $25.

"That's okay. My buddies paid me $65 to do it, so I still come out ahead," the lad was quoted.

St. Paul's United scene of Wiese-Green nuptials

St. Paul's United Church of Christ on Bluff Road, Edwardsville, was the scene of the wedding on May 10 of Miss Elvira F. Green and James M. Wiese.

Altar bouquets of white mums, red carnations and baby breath, together with burning tapers in branched candelabra and white satin bows marking the family pews, provided the setting for the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock performed by the Rev. Glenn E. Davis.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Harold (Doris) Loyd of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, and the late Ernest R. Green. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Wiese of Edwardsville.

Soloist Frank Joachimsthaler, a cousin of the groom, sang "The Wedding Song," "More and The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Elvira Schaefer at the organ.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her stepfather, the bride appeared in a pure white gown of satin and lace, accented with a long full skirt, designed with a detachable full sweep train.

Her cathedral length veil of imported illusion was enhanced with lace medallions and held in place with a lace caplet. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white carnations, red Sweetheart roses and baby breath.

Her only jewelry was a lavalliere belonging to her grandmother and worn previously by her mother and sisters.

Mrs. Janet Evans and Miss Deborah Green, sisters of the bride, served as matron of honor and bridesmaid. They were attired in sheer daron gowns of multi-colored poppy floral print on an amber background. A soft sheer ruffle framed the V-necklines on the fitted bodices and created the cap-style sleeves.

Their A-line skirts terminated at the hem with a gathered sheer flounce and each held a white Bible topped with red carnations.

Mark Wiese of Carlyle served as best man. Greg Masack of Collinsville was the groomsmen. Both are cousins of the groom. Seating the guests were Charles Linemann of Wood River and Daniel Joachimsthaler of Collinsville.

Mrs. Loyd, mother of the bride, wore a chiffon gown with long sleeves, fashioned with a lavender bodice and orchid multi-floral print skirt. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wiese, selected a long dress of chiffon in a variegated floral print. Both wore orchid corsages.

Following the service, guests were received by the newly married couple in the church fellowship hall.

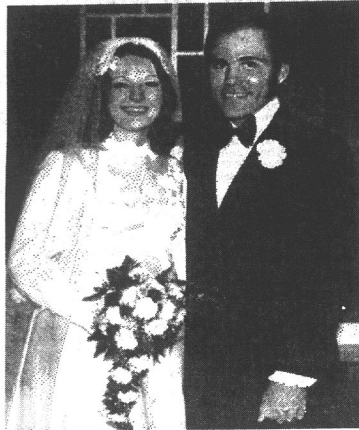

Miss Susan Ringering of Granite City presided over the guest book. Mrs. Sandy Johnson of Omaha, Neb., and Mrs. Carol Anderson of Hartford, Ill., both sisters of the bride, attended the buffet and gift table.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Edwardsville High School. She presently is employed at the Ben Franklin's Store in Edwardsville. Mr. Wiese works for the Siever's Equipment Co., Edwardsville.

He has served four years with the U.S. Army, including a tour of duty in Vietnam. They are now residing on Marine Road, Edwardsville.

Learning center issue is Frohardt PTA topic

Robert Kirgen, District 29 director, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, served as installing officer for incoming executives of Frohardt PTA last week at the school.

Those installed were Mrs. Joyce Toussaint, president; Mrs. Laverne Hammond, vice-president; and Mrs. Sue Moss, treasurer. Mrs. Judy Russell, secretary, was absent from the ceremony.

Mrs. Janet Wilson, the retiring president, presented pink carnations to the new officers and received a past president's pin from Mrs. Toussaint.

A letter from B. J. Davis, Granite City superintendent of schools, was read to the parents. In his reply to a request for a learning center at Frohardt School this fall, Davis noted that such a center will be installed at Frohardt in the fall of 1975-76.

The district administrator said the center will be established at that time "even if redistricting should be required."

It was noted the four remaining schools without centers will have such facilities initiated at the start of the 1975-76 school year. An extensive study concerning school district boundaries will be conducted this year, focusing on the redistricting issue, Davis said.

Mrs. Hammond reported a petition containing some 380 signatures was presented to the City Council last week seeking installation of a sidewalk along Wabash Avenue to Pontoon Road for use by the school children.

She said the proposal was defeated by a narrow margin. However, Sixth Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes has indicated he will pursue the issue during the summer months, she added.

Mrs. Wilson advised the parents that a mimeograph machine will be purchased for use at the school with funds raised from various projects conducted by the PTA unit.

She said the executive board also is investigating the purchase of "Safety Surf," a specific type of safety device which is placed under playground equipment. The latter was acquired by the PTA unit last year, she noted.

Kirgen briefly summarized the ICPT state convention in Chicago and encouraged members to "continue to work as a PTA unit" toward their objectives. Local units should forward proposals and ideas to the convention committee for subsequent action in Springfield, he said.

Mrs. Carol Skinner, learning center teacher at Wilson School, was the guest speaker. She presented a complete description of such centers, explaining—the benefits and primary functions.

The program originated in the 1970-71 school year when several Niedringhaus School faculty members presented the Granite City Board of Education with a proposal to start a learning center project here, she said.

Centers initially were opened at Niedringhaus, Emerson, Wilson and Nameoki, Mrs. Skinner explained. After the first year, tests indicated a definite change in the "attitude" level of the fifth grade student and almost all expressed their "like" for the learning center and the help it provided in improvement in their school work.

Most materials used center around two main areas—mathematics and language arts—and include cassettes, worksheets, film strips and similar items, Mrs. Skinner reported.

Mrs. Mildred Smith's third grade room won an award for having the largest percentage of parents at the meeting, and room mothers from the afternoon kindergarten class served refreshments to conclude the evening.

Jolly 60 seniors tour Grant's Farm

Members of the Jolly 60 program at Grace Baptist Church traveled to Grant's Farm in St. Louis by bus last week for a tour of the grounds, followed with basket lunch.

Twenty-eight members participated in the trip, according to Bill Turner, chairman of the organization.

The group meets every Wednesday at 10 a.m. at Grace Baptist Church, located at 2800 Edwards St. Any senior citizen is invited to attend, Turner said.

Fire causes $3,000 damage

Fire here last week caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the apartment of Jimmy Dwyer, 2202 Maryville Road. A short in the electrical wiring was suspected as the cause. Damage included $2,000 to its contents. Granite City firemen extinguished the flames.

Firemen also halted a fire at the vacant 20th and Park Tavern, East 20th Street and Park Avenue, which was reported Thursday. The fire was believed set by vandals. It caused only minor damage to the building, which has been purchased by Granite City Steel.

Fire last week also caused $100 damage to a sump pump at the home of Douglas Horn, 3138 Nameoki Road.

No cigarette pack redemptions to aid those in need but the rumor persists

Thousands of people are saving empty cigarette packs for some charitable purpose, but the effort is in vain. This advice comes from the Tobacco Institute, an organization of cigarette manufacturers. The Institute says the practice is growing, and all without apparent reason.

Actress Joan Crawford has taken to the air in a series of radio announcements for the American Foundation for the Blind to point out that the belief that cellophane bands from cigarette packs can be redeemed for guide dogs is a "cruel hoax" resulting in "heartbreak and anger."

Typically, word seems to spread in a community that some number of bands or packs will help provide such things as a dialysis machine for a kidney patient, open-heart surgery for a child or an iron lung for a victim.

In some cases, newspapers have assigned reporters to track the source of the well-meaning efforts. Never has such a rumor been traced to its actual source.

"Such publicity is helpful," an Institute spokesman said. "Yet, the empty cigarette pack rumor, still pops up as predictably as daisies in the spring — and all year long."

Burns W. Roger, a public opinion survey expert, says it is likely that people respond energetically to the empty-pack drives, without checking their authenticity, as a way of "getting involved" personally in today's highly complex, institutionalized society.

Some have strong feelings of frustration about their inability as individuals to do something, Roper says. "Joining with friends and neighbors in a project of this sort is a way of expressing this."

The Tobacco Institute has a bank file of newspaper clippings showing how the empty-pack rumor has led to substantial and useless efforts in communities across the country. With nearly 30 billion packs of cigarettes being sold annually in the U.S., the potential is enormous.

Millions of empty packs were collected by hundreds of people, from employees in a Massachusetts corporation to sailors aboard the aircraft carrier Enterprise, to raise money for "the two-year-old daughter of a garage mechanic in Crown Point, N.Y., needing open-heart surgery."

In Rahway, N.J., a Knights of Columbus chapter spearheaded a drive in the belief that each empty pack would somehow be redeemable for one free minute for a child in an iron lung.

A Lakeland, Fla., couple gathered more than 100,000 packs to provide someone with kidney dialysis treatment. In North Carolina, a drive was held, supposedly to aid a diabetic child.

These and scores of similar reports had one thing in common: the potential beneficiaries of the drives did not exist.

"Cigarette companies," says the Institute spokesman, "have for years made sizeable contributions to health research, education and other socially responsible causes, both nationally and in their own communities. But none of this involves redemption of empty packs."

In her public service radio spots for the American Foundation for the Blind, Joan Crawford decries the fact that other "good-hearted Americans" have, on the basis of "serious hoaxes," collected the rings from beverage cans tops and even tea bag tags in the belief they may help a blind person obtain a guide dog.

"This is just as true as this heartbreaking rumor," says Miss Crawford.

What should a person do if someone and his or her neighbors respond to one of these "drives"?

"Challenge the rumor," says The Institute. "Ask to see an advertisement signed by a manufacturing company, for instance, in which such a redemption offer is made. There just won't be any."

"That's the way to stop these well-meant but futile efforts in their tracks."

Aid costs $100 million over budget predicted

The governor's fiscal year 1974-75 budget underestimates public aid demands by at least $100 million and underestimates the state's revenue growth, Controller George W. Lindberg charged Friday in his annual financial report.

"The budget underestimates requirements in the aid to dependent children (ADC) and medical assistance programs, and even if you assume the governor is able to carry out his plan to cut ineffectual from the welfare rolls," Lindberg asserted.

If ADC families receive only the 3.3 per cent cost-of-living boost proposed by the governor in July and there are no other increases in the current month's payments to these families, the budget recommendation will be about $10 million short, the controller predicted.

Regarding medical assistance recommendations in the budget, $60 million less is being requested than is likely to be spent in fiscal 1974-75 that was allowed.

In addition, broadening of eligibility for medical assistance and inflation are likely to spur another $50 million in spending, Lindberg said.

On the state's revenue front, he said budget estimates of growth in state income are "pessimistic" and below rates in the preceding four years, and also below the consensus of most economists. Continued inflation and an economic recovery predicted during 1974-75 are likely to increase the growth of the state's income, Lindberg said.

The controller's report, covering the first 10 months of fiscal 1974, which ends June 30, also indicated:

Total revenues this fiscal year top last year's by $226 million.

Spending this fiscal year exceeds last year's by $200 million.

Spending is $17 million more than income for the 10-month period.

Bill would amend mobile home tax

Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) announced last week he has introduced a bill to amend a law which provides for a privilege tax on mobile homes in Illinois.

His bill is "corrective legislation" designed to eliminate many of the inequities in the original law.

Provisions include changing the name of the tax, using a sliding scale to determine the amount of tax based on the size and age of the home, a method for determining exact square footage of the home, allowing disabled persons a 20 per cent reduction in the tax before distribution is made to taxing districts.

Vadalabene worked closely with the Illinois Mobile Home Association in compiling data related to amending the privilege tax.

Other parts of Vadalabene's bill would set new criteria for a method of correcting an incorrect tax bill, and permission for a county to recoup costs of collecting the tax before distribution is made to taxing districts.

Vadalabene worked closely with the Illinois Mobile Home Association in compiling data related to amending the privilege tax.

Efficient cooling units urged

During the hot summer, the demand for air conditioning and refrigeration may push generating capacity to the limit. Thomas J. O'Brien, supervisor of the consumer protection section of the Illinois Commerce Commission, warned last week that to help avoid interruptions of service and to conserve fuel, electrical energy should be put to the most efficient use possible, O'Brien added.

The Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers (AHAM) has published a list of nearly all available window units and classified them according to their electrical efficiency by assigning to each an energy efficiency ratio (EER).

The EER is a yardstick for describing the amount of electricity a unit uses to produce its maximum cooling capacity. It is determined by dividing the number of Btu's a unit produces by the number of watts it uses, O'Brien explained.

For example, a 9,000-Btu unit that uses 1,380 watts has an EER of 6.5. Another 9,000-Btu unit that uses only 1,000 watts has an EER of 9.0. The higher the EER, the more efficient the unit, he asserted.

His list of window air conditioning units offering the most efficiency follows:

Freidrich S907A10, 6,800 Btu's and 10.5 EER; Air Temp 15010H-NR, 9,000 and 10.3; Gold-Stop 253-7740980, 9,000 and 10.5; Comfort-Aire WL-975, 9,000 and 10.4; Fedders ASL9B22GA, 9,000 and 10.5; Gibson MT3901 KSA, 9,000 and 10.5; Kelvinator K90GD, 9,000 and 10.5; Westinghouse AP977RM, 9,000 and 10.5; York RC90-2A, 9,000 and 10.4; Fedrich S508A10, 9,200 and 10.7; Carrier 51FA0101A, 9,500 and 11.0; Fedrich SM10A10, 9,500 and 11.0; Westinghouse 10A10, 9,500 and 12.0; Emerson Quiet Kool 14DD1A, 13,600 and 10.0; Air Temp M14-20H-NM, 14,000 and 10.2; Emerson Quiet Kool 14CD1A, 14,000 and 10.1; Westinghouse AS147R1K, 14,000 and 10.2; Amana 61A-2N, 14,000 and 10.3.

Students to enroll at Venice-Lincoln

Adult education courses at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, 400 S. 4th St., Venice, have resumed for the fourth week work stoppage by faculty members which halted classes at all Venice schools, K-12.

Rankin, center administrator, said last week.

Due to the enforced vacation a number of students have failed to return to classes at the center and personal contacts now are being made to encourage their return and also to enroll new students, Rankin said.

About 150 adults were receiving instruction at the center prior to the teachers' strike. Classroom space now is available for 75 new students, the center said.

Instruction at the adult education center is available without cost to participants, Rankin said. Bus transportation also is provided from various locations in the Quad City area to the center.

Classes are held from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Students may enroll for one class or take a series of courses lasting the entire day, Rankin explained.

Ongoing courses include nurse aid training, business, clerical and data processing, high school credit program, and General Educational Development (for GED, equivalency certification).

New courses in graphic arts and merchandizing hopefully will start this summer Rankin said.

No break in the program is anticipated this year, he noted, explaining for the first time since the center opened five years ago classes were discontinued during 1973.

Starting in June, a child care program for school-age youth up to age 14 years will be operated for the benefit of students whose families are home for the summer months, Rankin said.

The program will include craft work and "fun" projects, he added. A preschool child care service is available to students on a year-around basis.

Rankin pointed out that all classrooms at Venice-Lincoln now are air conditioned, enabling instruction to be scheduled on a 12-month basis.

Persons who are interested in enrolling or wishing to obtain additional information are invited to visit the school or call 876-7792.

Water Kiwanis topic series

The first in a series of three programs on the topic of water was presented Thursday morning to the Breakfast Club at Charlie's Restaurant.

Richard Neubauer, customer service supervisor for the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. Granite City District, is presenting the series. Dr. Frank H. Smith is the program chairman.

A film, "Joy of Water," was shown to the club.

According to Neubauer, the American Water Works Co. is the largest of its kind in the United States, serving 5 million customers and 500 communities in 20 states.

He told the club that the average family uses 60 gallons of water per person a day.

Due to the Memorial Day holiday the club will not meet Thursday. On June 6, slides will be shown of local water facilities, followed by a June 13 program by other water company officials.

Suit filed in shooting death

Three Granite City policemen, the city and the owners of two taverns here have been named in two suits filed by Mrs. Vonda Collins, the mother of Michael Collins, 16, who was shot and fatally injured as he fled from a parking lot at Victor's Tavern, 2001 Illinois Ave., May 22, 1973.

She alleges the policemen, Patrolman Edward Wiesehan, Sgt. Harry Mitchell and Patrolman David Rosenberg, "took aim, shot, and killed... when deadly force was not necessary or reasonable."

She seeks a total of $100,000 from the city and the policemen in one suit and in the other suit asks $20,000 each from Roscar Miller, owner of the Twilight Tavern, 909 Niedringhaus Ave., and Victor Reznack, owner of Victor's Tavern.

She alleges that on the evening of May 21 and early May 22, 1973, both taverns caused harm to Michael, 16, served alcohol to him, and killed while in his intoxicated condition. "The deceased broke a window in a tavern to get a pack of cigarettes and was shot and killed while in his intoxicated condition," the suit alleges.

It is further alleged that the youth's relatives depended upon him for support, including his mother, his father, Charles the Eagle Man, and his sisters, Pamela, Daniel, Charles Jr., Lydia and Eugenia.

High blood pressure kills many unaware of it; can be effectively treated

You may have high blood pressure—a disease that makes you a vulnerable target for stroke, kidney disease and heart failure—and not even know it.

Half the estimated 30 million people in America with high blood pressure don't know they have it.

What's more, half of those who KNOW they have hypertension (the medical term for high blood pressure) aren't being treated, and half of the remainder are being treated inadequately.

Hypertension is the primary cause of 60,000 deaths each year.

It is the most important predisposing factor in coronary disease and stroke, and accounts for more than 50 per cent of the deaths each year.

Hypertension costs the country at least $5 billion per year in economic loss resulting from death, disability and related disease among people under 65.

A federally-funded national campaign of major private, professional and governmental organizations is working to alert the public about the dangers of high blood pressure, and May has been designated as "National High Blood Pressure Month."

Elliott Richardson, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has called hypertension "a hidden timebomb ticking away to its moment of detonation."

The emphasis is on the word "hidden."

Hypertension is virtually symptomless; its basic cause is unknown, and it cannot be cured—only controlled. And doctors disagree on their definitions of it.

Symptoms begin appearing when the disease becomes severe—and it can become severe quickly when pressure readings rise above 140-90. Symptoms may include dizziness, shortness of breath, headache, insomnia, flushing of the face, and pain over the heart or in the left chest. These symptoms, however, can also indicate other causes.

An "old wives' tale" has it that fat people with florid faces have high blood pressure. Not so, says Dr. John B. Stokes, III, executive secretary of the National High Blood Pressure Education Program of the National Heart and Lung Institute.

"Hypertension does not relate to the appearance of a person," says Dr. Stokes. Because it does its deadly work so quietly, hypertension probably is "our most overlooked major disease," according to the National Heart and Lung Institute.

One indication of its prevalence was found in a county where 40,000 people were screened: 30 per cent of them were referred to their physicians for treatment of hypertension.

High pressure makes your heart pump harder, exerting greater force against artery walls and, after a time, damaging your blood vessels and kidneys and causing your heart to enlarge or to fail completely.

Hypertension is conducive to artery-clogging deposits that can cut off the supply of blood to heart and brain, causing heart attack and stroke.

If a hypertensive person does not get treatment, his condition will almost surely worsen. Also, the more severe the hypertension, the shorter a person's lifespan is likely to be.

Health and life insurance companies used to consider nearly everyone with high blood pressure an unacceptable or high insurance risk.

However, because of the drug treatment available today, many persons with mildly-to-moderately-elevated blood pressure are now considered normal insurance risks, or at least can be insured with only a modest increase in premium.

Insurance companies have long been active in recognizing and substantiating the importance of high blood pressure as it relates to a person's longevity.

In fact, a life insurance company medical director at the turn of the century invented and perfected the device used to check blood pressure, called a sphygmomanometer.

Insurance firms, in setting premium rates related to hypertension, consider these factors: duration, severity and treatment of high blood pressure; weight and age; family history; presence or absence of a recent normal electrocardiogram and chest x-ray; cardiovascular complications; and blood cholesterol and triglyceride levels.

Hypertension is not, as some people think, a characteristic affliction of the elderly. It strikes young adults and middle-agers, too—people in the prime of their lives. The incidence of hypertension, however, rises with age.

At all ages, up to 80, hypertension rates are higher for blacks than for whites. Overall, twice as many blacks have hypertension as whites—and it tends to be more severe in blacks. The reasons for this are not known.

Because of the severe consequences of high blood pressure, many national organizations are now trying to induce all Americans to have blood pressure checked. But it's an uphill battle.

Nevertheless, the evidence that hypertension is, indeed, a deadly disease may persuade some to ask, "What can I do?"

You can stop smoking and stop eating high-cholesterol foods.

When a hypertensive male, 39 to 59 years old, eats a lot of high-cholesterol foods and smokes, he is five times more likely to die prematurely. This is the conclusion of research done in Albany, Chicago and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The "composite" individual most susceptible to hypertension would be a young, overweight, black male with low income and a family history of hypertension who smokes cigarettes, drinks a lot of coffee and eats salty food with high cholesterol and saturated fat content.

A family history of hypertension, high blood pressure as a youth, and cigarette smoking is another deadly combination.

According to genetic studies, if both parents are hypertensive, 46 per cent of their children will be hypertensive. If neither parent is hypertensive, only 3 per cent of their children will contract the disease, on the average.

Drs. Meyer Friedman and Ray H. Rosenman of Mt. Zion Hospital, San Francisco, have described the personalities of people who are prone to heart attacks as a result of hypertension in their book, "Type A Behavior and Your Heart."

A hypertension-prone person, they say, moves, walks and eats rapidly, is impatient with activity that's slower than his normal pace, does two things at once, such as shaving while driving, and feels guilty while relaxing.

There can be no treatment of hypertension without diagnosis. Large numbers of hypertension cases are uncovered each year through examination of insurance applicants, through pre-employment physicals, and other types of required routine health exams. However, millions of people with high blood pressure go undetected.

The status of hypertension as "our most overlooked major disease" is being attacked by: 1. The "National High Blood Pressure Program" coordinated by the National Heart and Lung Institute and funded by Congress.

Fourteen clinical centers each have enlisted about 800 adult volunteers with high blood pressure. They will be treated, and their health closely monitored, for five years to identify the most effective treatment.

2. A national Veterans

Administration program that eventually will involve 168 VA hospitals in screening and treating hypertension among the 30 million veterans in the U.S.

The program is reaching non-veterans and families of veterans, too, through screening programs sponsored by local veterans and service organizations, heart associations and medical groups.

3. An American Medical Association effort urges doctors to check the blood pressure of every patient—even those who see them for a common cold—and also endorses a program of blood pressure readings by dentists. The AMA is informing the public of the need for periodic checkups and the importance of accepting—and continuing—treatment.

Fortunately, there is plenty of hope for treated hypertensives—in contrast to the prospect of early death, disability, and heightened susceptibility to disease that faces persons with untreated high blood pressure.

Thanks to the number of effective drugs with few side-effects which have been developed over the past 15 years, no other major life-threatening, chronic illness can be as effectively treated as hypertension.

In addition to drugs, the treatment of hypertension may include exercise, more sleep, a low-fat diet, reduced salt intake, a diuretic to reduce the amount of water in the body, mild sedatives and weight reduction.

Your physician may suggest that you try just about anything that calms you—a warm bath, good book, movie or even transcendental meditation.

In the long run, it should be far less expensive to control hypertension than to care for those who become disabled and economically unproductive as a consequence of the disease.

Schooley, Sampson sharp in state track and field tourney

Two Quad-City area athletes did well Friday and Saturday at the 80th annual boys' track and field meet on the campus of Eastern Illinois University at Charleston.

Evanston and Chicago's Lane Tech split top honors, each earning 27 points.

Warrior Tom Schooley tied for the eighth best time (.38.9) for the 330-yard low hurdles, forcing two heats in Saturday's final.

Schooley placed third in one of the final heats with a time of 38.3 seconds to give GCHS South three team points. LaGrange Lyons' Ron Sterenberg won the event in 36.9.

Steady Bob Sampson of GCHS North was only one of 11 athletes to make the finals in the pole vault by meeting the qualifying mark of 13-9.

Sampson, North's lone participant, then tied for ninth place Saturday with 13 feet.

Tom Johnson of Chicago Heights Bloom captured the event with a 14-9 vault.

South's mile relay squad of Dave Ruebhausen, Joe Ward, Jim Hall and Schooley, and the 880-yard relay squad of Ruebhausen, Larry Haddix, Ward and Schooley failed to reach the qualifying marks of 3:25.0 and 1:30.5.

Half-mile runner Hall missed his qualifying mark (1:57.9) by two one-hundredths of a second.

Madison's Kelvin Boyd missed the 100-yard dash mark of 10.1 seconds after turning in a time of 10.4 in preliminary action.

The MHS Trojans' 440-yard relay squad of Chris Stanley, Joe Young, Lamont Garrett and Boyd was hampered in its efforts by the pulled leg muscles of Stanley and Garrett. The quartet turned in a time of 46 seconds; qualifying mark was 43.4.

Only one state meet record was broken at Charleston. Nate Page of Evanston set a new record of 6:10.4 in the high jump. The old record of 6:10.4 was set by Gavin Sweet of Colfax in 1970.

East St. Louis was fifth with 14½ points behind Evanston and Lane Tech, 27 each. LaGrange Lyons 19½ and Chicago Heights Bloom, 19.

Alton was seventh with 10½. GCHS South tied for 23rd place.

Braves divide

The newly formed Granite City Braves baseball team split a doubleheader Saturday at the Grigsby Jr. High field with Florissant, Mo. The Braves won 2-0 and then lost 9-3.

The first contest developed into a pitching duel between the Braves' Daris Davis and Florissant's Bo Healey.

Healey hurled a no-hitter against the local squad but walked Jim Simpson and Tim Leumann in the third and fourth innings and then allowed both to score on wild pitches.

Davis lost his no-hit bid in the seventh when, after he retired 17 of the first 18 batters, Tom Gasaway blooped a two-out single into left.

In the second contest, the Granite City squad committed seven errors and gave up seven unearned runs.

The local squad's runs were tallied in the fourth on Davis pinch hit that drove in Tom Manogian, Rick Schmidt and Simpson. All had reached base on hits.

The Braves will begin their 40-game league schedule Sunday, June 2.

Wallace and Yates set pace at Speedway here

Missouri's Russ Wallace awarded off a strong challenge by former winner Bill Broze to capture the crash-marred 25-lap late model stock car main event Friday at Tri-City Speedway.

But Granite City's Jack Yates highlighted the evening's action by making a clean sweep of every sportsman class event he entered.

Yates started his victory drive in the second heat race when he wrestled the lead away from John Wolmer on the eighth lap of the ten lap event and went on for the win.

Starting in the last row of the 20-car field in the feature race, the youthful racer worked his way through the pack and on the ninth lap was running third behind fellow Granite Cityan Rod Bailey, the leader, and Missouri's Bill Broze.

Bailey relinquished the front spot to Broze after blowing an engine on the twelfth lap.

Broze was followed across the finish line by Yates and Gary Wain but a technical ruling by officials disqualified the Missouri driver, resulting in Yates being declared the victor.

The disqualification came after a sportsman class driver challenged the legality of Broze's machine and requested that it be checked by Gateway Auto Racing Association of officials. Broze refused the request and was automatically deprived of victory.

There was no mistaking the brightly colored machine belonging to Yates as the mechanic, Rich Morrison, took the checkered flag first in winning a special "mechanics" race to complete the evening's sweep.

Wallace and Yates set the pace at the first and second spots on the finish line, with Jim Patrick coming home third.

The race was marred on the 15th lap when Harold Workman of Webster Groves powered his way out of the second corner only to crash sideways into a light post.

The veteran racer was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was admitted observation after reporting pains in his left shoulder.

Wallace's victory failed to put him within reach of Pontoon Beach's Bill Spaulding in the points standings.

He then captured the first heat race and the handicap event for the six fastest cars to hold onto his lead with 790 points.

Gittens holds down second with 730 points and Wallace has 825.

Wallace also drove to victory in the third heat race. The second heat event and semi-feature checkered flags went to Workman.

Stock car racing in both divisions will resume at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The evening's program will be highlighted by the appearance of Doug Rose's thundering jet machine.

Busy summer in store for youngsters at 'Y'

The Tri-City Area YMCA is offering a wide variety of activities and classes for area grade school children this summer. Michael Tharp, program director, said today. Special activities will be offered according to grade level starting June 10.

For grades one through three, the emphasis will be on swimming classes, recreational swims and a kickball program. Children will be closely supervised and will be participating only with youngsters their own age, Tharp pointed out.

The program for grades four through six will include swimming classes, recreational swims, gymnastics, floor hockey, BB gun classes and a lobby game arcade. All swimming instructors are certified nationally as specialist instructors in swimming. Other classes will be taught by qualified individuals.

Tharp commented that the strongest feature of the program is the close personal supervision give by the staff to groups of children all in the same age range.

The schedule will run for ten weeks this summer. Classes will be set up in three-week sessions.

The first session will be June 10-28, followed by a week of special events July 1-5. The second and third three-week sessions will be July 8-26 and July 29 to Aug. 16.

Registration will begin June 3rd and continue through June 12.

For more information, residents may contact the program department at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., in downtown Granite City or call 876-7200.

Prospective lottery ticket agents to apply to state

License applications for prospective lottery ticket agents are available at all Illinois Department of Revenue offices. Revenue Director Robert H. Alphin announced last week.

Alphin said organizations and businesses licensed to sell tickets would stand to increase their income substantially through commissions and bonuses. He added:

"In successful lotteries in other states, a licensed agent can earn $10,000 on the sale of a single ticket, if he sells a winning $1,000,000 ticket."

"But even if the agent never sells a winning ticket, a substantial profit can still be made from the sale of tickets."

MAY BRIDE. Mrs. Samuel John DeMott, the former Miss Sharon Ann Brewer, who was married Saturday afternoon at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brewer, 3120 Wayne Ave. (Lazenby Photographer)

Sharon Brewer becomes Mrs. Samuel J. DeMott

The wedding of Miss Sharon Ann Brewer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brewer, 3120 Wayne Ave., and Samuel John DeMott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett John DeMott, 86 Cambridge Drive, was solemnized Saturday afternoon at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Summer blossoms and lighted candles decorated the sanctuary for the 1 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Edward Groesch.

Preceding the service were wedding selections, including "Sunrise, Sunset," "Knights in White Satin," "Wedding Song" and "If," were played by Phyllis Von Nita at the organ and Joe Martinez, guitarist. Linda Bennett was the soloist.

A formal gown of pure white satin organza over peau de soie, lavishly accented with Venise lace, was worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies festooned with yellow streamers.

The molded bodice was designed with a V-style yoke of Venise lace etched with tiny seed pearls and defined with a wide, gathered lace ruffle.

The high stand up collar and long full sleeves were created of Venise lace and lace was repeated on the skirt and edged the detachable court train.

Her mantilla veil was profusely trimmed with the decorative lace and held in place by a matching lace caplet.

Miss Susan Grimes, the honor attendant, selected a full length halter dress made with a short sleeve jacket in lime, orchid and blue floral fabric. Her flowers were arranged in a crescent bouquet and consisted of daisies and roses in shades to match her gown.

Misses Cindy Arnold, Robyn Brewer and Tina DeMott, the latter two sisters of the bride and groom, wore identical halter style gowns in yellow, complemented with short sleeve jackets.

The flower girl, Shelly Barnhart, was dressed in a pink frock and carried a basket of pink daisies and roses.

Each of the attendants wore a white picture hat and the bridesmaids held bouquets of yellow daisies and roses.

The groom chose Daniel DeMott as his best man. Groomsmen and ushers included Steve Meyers, Steve Meiser, Steve Sampson, Randy Strudvick and Steve and Bob Brewer, brothers of the bride and groom, served as candlelighters, and Philip Brewer, a brother of the bride, was the ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brewer selected a long pink dress with lace sleeves, worn with white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. DeMott, was attired in a light blue gown, full length, and her accessories were also white. Both wore white daisy corsages.

The former Miss Brewer is a Granite City High School graduate and is employed at Bussman Manufacturing Co., St. Louis. Her husband works at Granite City Army Installation. He served two years in the U.S. Army, including a tour of duty in Germany.

A reception was held after the church service at the Croatian Hall in Madison.

Young farmers to honor June baby

The Young Farmer's Committee of the Madison County Farm Bureau again will observe "June is Dairy Month" by presenting the parents of the first child born in June with gifts as well as the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Schaefer of Granite City, members of the committee, announced the doctors will receive a package of cheese equaling the weight of the baby, and parents of the child will be presented with a basket of dairy products.

The program will be extended to five Madison County hospitals, the Schaefer's announced. Also included in the project is gallons of ice cream to be served to the ward personnel.

David Mueller is chairman of the Young Farmer's committee and Frank Thomas serves as executive secretary.

150 greet drummers

Area fans and music students who turned out last week in Granite City to meet Louie Bellson, internationally acclaimed drum artist, were rewarded with a double treat.

Accompanying Bellson here was Duffy Jackson, who was appearing in St. Louis with Sammy Davis Jr. Duffy, the son of famous musician Chubby Jackson has been drummer for the versatile Davis for some time.

About 150 area residents, including many high school and college age music students, were offered an experience when both renowned drummers performed an impromptu performance on drums.

The musicians were guests at John Fornaszewski Music Studio, 309 Namecki Road. There, Bellson was greeted by long-time friend John Karoly of Granite City.

Bellson is musical director of the Pearl Bailey Show which concluded a week's run at the American Theatre last week. Miss Bailey and Bellson appeared Tuesday on the Merv Griffin television show, taped at Caesar's Palace, Las Vegas, Fornaszewski said.

He reported the Bailey entourage will leave this weekend for a three-week tour of Israel and will remain in Europe the next three months presenting the show in many major cities.

Bellson and Jackson were interviewed here by Charlie Meneses, widely-known jazz broadcaster, who hosts "Big Band Bash" and "Jazz Freeway" over KWMU-FM Radio. The interviews were broadcast Saturday on Meneses show, the local studio owner advised.

Seek more benefits for survivors of police, firemen killed in line of duty

Attorney General William J. Scott is urging the General Assembly to increase the state compensation paid to widows and children of police officers and firemen killed in line of duty in Illinois.

Scott said that since the Law Enforcement Officers and Firemen Compensation Act went into effect Sept. 30, 1969, the state has awarded a total of $20,000 to survivors of 82 police officers and firefighters who lost their lives in the performance of duty throughout the state.

Rep. Thomas H. Miller (R, South Holland) has introduced legislation (HB 2108) to increase the compensation from its present $10,000 to a maximum of $20,000. Scott supports the proposal, which the House Executive Committee last week voted out with a "do pass" endorsement.

The attorney general said the present $10,000 death benefit "is not at all adequate when you look at the families left by many of the victims. For the most part they are young families."

"The average age of the officers killed was 36, and the firemen age 44," Scott said. "Of the 82 victims left two or more dependent children. Of those 47, 15 men left four or more children."

A Naperville fireman left a widow and 11 children. A police patrolman in Chicago left nine children. Three other victims left eight children, and two men left seven children each.

Statistically, 48 of the 82 victims were law enforcement officers and 34 were firemen. With reference to the 48 policemen, 23 were murdered with guns; two were stabbed to death; 11 died accidentally when the police vehicle in which they were riding (or in the case of Chicago air traffic officer Irv Hayden, flying) was involved in a collision, some while chasing suspects; four were stricken accidentally shot or died accidentally; and eight were stricken with heart attacks in the line of duty. Of the 34 firemen who died in the line of duty, 11 died in burning or collapsing buildings; five died of injuries in vehicles responding to alarms; and 18 died as a result of smoke inhalation, stress or heart involvement, or were stricken when fighting fires or attempting to rescue fire victims.

St. Louis divers present program

"Recruitment Night" and a sea adventures theme highlighted the May meeting of Cub Pack 22 at Frohardt School last week. Leaflets were distributed earlier in the week by pack leaders, prompting parents to attend the event with a prospective Cub Scout or Webelos.

Bill Smith, president of the St. Louis Scuba Diving Club, was the guest speaker, together with club members, Sharon Smith, 1972 international scuba diving champion; Bob Kramer, twice an international champion in scuba diving and underwater photography; Vern Kramer and George Kramer.

The divers displayed and demonstrated flasks, snorkels, fins, spearguns and air tanks, and explained the different techniques in skin and scuba diving.

Bob Kramer illustrated his photographic expertise by showing many colored slides taken underwater and also the equipment used to capture the detailed shots.

Cubmaster Gail Buenger was in charge and awarded Wolf badges to Ford Frazer, Donald McAllister, Grant Moss, Eric Wilson and David Kalert; a Bear badge to Steve Giese and a one-year pin to Wynn Buenger.

Parents and cubs were reminded of a picnic to be held at the large pavilion in Highland Park on June 23. Barbecue chicken will be furnished by the pack, with mothers providing covered dish items. A weekend campout at Wilson Park is planned Friday for Cub Scouts and their fathers, Buenger said. Cubs must be 10 years of age or have completed the fourth grade. A boy must be accompanied by his father or guardian to attend, he stressed.

Den Eight, under the leadership of Mrs. Sue Moss and Mrs. Karen Frazer, conducted the flag ceremony and closed the meeting with a song.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Kay Boker.

Mrs. Charlotte Damal, the retiring president, was in charge of the business session. She announced plans for unit members to place two wreaths at the war memorial plaques on the City Hall lawn in Granite City at 9 a.m. Thursday, during a service sponsored by the Daughters of Union Veterans. The officer also reported that Mrs. Ann Tucker, volunteer chairman for the auxiliary group, presently is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

In a year-end report, Mrs. Wilkins, retiring chaplain, said a total of 23 hospital visits was made in 1973-74. In addition, seven gifts were delivered, 13 sympathy and 81 get well cards were mailed and 16 floral tributes were sent.

Mrs. Damal and Mrs. Jean Murphy were hostesses for the social hour and served refreshments. Mrs. Damal won the white elephant gift.

The possibility of a food stamp distribution center in the Quad-City area was discussed by Gov. Daniel Walker during his accountability session here last week. It was one of several dozen topics dealt with during the 90-minute, public meeting.

Responding to a question from Edgar Paddock, president of the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens, Gov. Walker said, "Before I became governor, they gave the franchise for food stamp distribution to currency exchanges. We currently are looking into it."

"If we can break open that contract, we can do something about providing better service."

He pledged continued effort by the state administration in studying the issue.

Paddock had objected that senior citizens have to travel long distances to obtain food stamps.

The governor also pledged his support for some of the Community Action Programs (CAP) which lost all funding when the federal government halted grants to them.

"To the extent that the state can provide support, we will do so. We are not going to be able to support all CAP agencies the federal government has shut off totally."

"I can't tell you which we will support and which we won't," he explained.

Ruth Floyd, who lives near the new Russell Johnson Elementary School on Old Alton Road, told the governor of inadequate culverts and of flooding in the area of her home.

She blamed the school district for allowing runoff water to collect near homes. "We are in need of help on Old Alton Road," she said.

The governor commented that the school is not a state project but he promised to investigate the matter and determine if the state could help to relieve storm flooding.

An objection that the new State Board of Education makeup is heavily stacked with persons from the Chicago area brought an explanation by the governor that the 17-member board is comprised, by state law, of five members from the First Judicial District (the Cook County and Chicago area), and three members each from the other four judicial districts in the state.

"There are five members from Cook County and 12 from the rest of the state. You have representation from every judicial district. The majority of the board is from outside the Chicago area," he summarized.

Responding to charges that his administration is not spending enough for road improvements in Madison County, the governor responded, "I'm not a miracle man. This year, $40 million will go into roads for Madison County—as much as the entire four years of my predecessor."

"It takes time and you're not seeing the results yet. In my administration, you will see at least four times as many roads as my predecessor," Walker praised State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) for his work in supporting highway programs.

Walker was charged with "bringing in out-of-state people to run programs, rather than using Illinois people."

He responded by saying, "Of 250 to 300 people I have hired, less than 10 are from out-of-state. I am going to get the best qualified guy I can get for the job."

"I think the taxpayers and citizens are much more interested in top-flight performance than they are with having an Illinois resident (in a job)."

Responding to a comment that an out-of-stater is to run the state lottery, Walker said, "We didn't have a single person in the state with any experience in running a lottery."

The governor answered questions on why more Democrats from this area have not been placed in state highway department positions.

"We have civil service. I cannot just fire a Republican and replace him with a Democrat. I wonder if you know how many lawsuits I have against me on this point," he told the audience of 300 at Granite City High School North.

Barbara Madison of Madison alleged that the Madison County Housing Authority is refusing to rent homes to families on Aid to Dependent Children.

The governor responded simply, "That's against the law. We'll investigate that immediately."

A man asked Gov. Walker to aid this area in obtaining additional passenger railroad service.

Walker commented, "I'm fighting the battle of my life to keep rail service in a large portion of the state."

He said railroads are threatening to stop even freight service to much of the state, and commented that farmers need the service.

The top state official said Illinois is subsidizing Amtrak passenger service to much of the state.

A woman employee of Alton State Hospital said she has heard rumors the state may close many of its mental hospitals. Walker replied, "No, no, no. No closing of Alton State Hospital. No."

"No institute like that could be closed without my permission. It's not going to be done. I'm getting really tired of these rumors. It ain't-gonna happen!"

Walker said he was not familiar with the proposed U.S. Army Corps of Engineers hillside drainage program for this region, when requested by Mrs. Helen Hawkins of Necedah Township to support the state becoming "local" sponsor of the program.

She thanked Walker for his support in allocating $130,000 for an interim project to drain the Dobrey Slough area.

The governor also discussed police-community relations, saying, "People do not relate to their policemen. In Chicago, a lot of people feel the policeman is a mercenary, sent in to keep an eye on them. We need in ways to get people closer to policemen; we need more training and professionalism."

"If we keep working with respect on both sides, we're going to make progress. Being a policeman is a dangerous and a tough job," he concluded.

Addressing himself to a question concerning the state providing medical care to low income people, he said, "If the state isn't willing to help, I wonder what has happened to the $500 million each year for medical care to the indigent. I will check into this case personally."

The governor voiced strong support for the original federal comprehensive health insurance bill sponsored by Sen. Edward Kennedy. "Health insurance should take care of the low income people—not the middle income people and I will fight at the national Governors' Conference for the Kennedy Program," he said. He voiced doubt over the wisdom of amendments said to have "watered down" the proposal.

Mayor James E. Williams of East St. Louis asked the governor if the state could initiate legislation to provide tax incentives for industries, similar to some states' incentive of no state taxes for 10 years.

Williams said Illinois must compete with other states in attracting industries if rising unemployment is to be reversed.

Walker said, "You try to put something like that through the state, and every community will want that kind of goodies."

Williams suggested that tax-free incentives apply only for areas with high and increasing unemployment and declining tax bases. Walker responded, "If you could get something like that through, you might have something."

A South Roxana man said his area of the village had never had representation on the village board, and was being abused by board decisions.

"What can my neighbors and I do to be counted in our village?" he asked.

The governor replied, "There are some problems as governor I can solve and some I cannot. I have absolutely no powers to help."

"It has to be done by the people in the local area. It is very important in our system of government that we have home rule."

"If I were you, I wouldn't want some bureaucrat telling me what to do. In Chicago, something they call a machine has been in power for a long, long time. I don't happen to like machines myself," he said.

Responding to a request for the state to lease more recreation areas, Walker said many areas are owned by power companies and others and are available for only short-term leases.

"The state will not invest a lot of money if it is not sure we will have (the site) for a long period of time," he explained.

Responding to another question, the governor said the state is powerless to prohibit Missouri firms from dumping trash in Illinois landfills. "It has to be a matter of local control," he said.

A Sorrento woman complained a dump owner was burning garbage near her home and Walker pledged, "Next week there will be an EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) inspector at the site to see that this does not happen."

Walker urged everyone to come to the state fair this year at Springfield.

"I want you to know, I've reintroduced the three Bs, beer, bingo and betting. I'm getting some criticism for that, but if you want to have a good day, come to the fair."

Memorial Day focuses attention on enduring values of our free society

To the Editor:

Members of Tent 90, Daughters of Union Veterans of America, as well as millions of organizations throughout the United States, will join other patriotic Americans in observing Memorial Day May 30.

Memorial Day is especially meaningful to the Daughters of Union Veterans because it is due to their forefathers' heroic struggles, the union veterans of the Civil War, that it was decided to organize the Daughters of Union Veterans for the purpose of assisting the Grand Army.

The members of Tent 90, Daughters of Union Veterans of Granite City, are endeavoring to remind all Americans that a rebirth of patriotism is needed to focus worldwide attention on the enduring values of our free society.

All Americans are urged to hold sacred on this day the memory of all war heroes, by holding and attending patriotic ceremonies honoring all those who gave their lives so that this land of ours may be free.

They also call the attention of the general public to the importance of patriotism and the many civic and community services the Daughters inspire.

It is requested that as many programs as possible be focused on Memorial Day.

The members of Tent 90, Daughters of Union Veterans of Granite City, will place a wreath on the monument at the City Hall on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

All organizations and the public are invited to join the DUV members.

Memorial Day is observed as a legal holiday in most states of the U.S. in commemoration of dead servicemen and women. It is a duty doubly sacred now.

Our Memorial Day belongs to the whole world and will ever be held sacred to the memory of all war heroes.

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you on behalf of the college for your expression of confidence in Belleville Area College.

The public testimony which you gave at the hearing May 15 only confirms our belief that the Tri-Cities area takes pride in its educational endeavors, but also intensifies our desire to serve the community to the best of our abilities.

I am happy to announce that M. A. Wittevrongel will be recommended to the board of trustees for employment as coordinator-consultant for the Granite City extension center.

As well as by a number of Granite City residents.

It is our belief that the excellent adult education program which Mr. Wittevrongel presently administers for Community Unit 9 will be continued and expanded.

We hope to announce the coordinator-consultant selections for Madison and Venice in the near future.

I am enclosing an informational booklet on the college for your reference. If you have questions concerning the college in general, please call Bruce Wissore, Administrative Assistant for Madison and Venice.

He can be reached at our toll-free number, 874-3700.

For information concerning specific courses which can be offered in Granite City, please contact Mr. Wittevrongel at 877-1512 or Dr. Warren Nieburg, dean of General Studies and Community Services, at 874-3700, Extension 261.

I would like once again to thank you for your public support of the college and to emphasize our commitment to meet the educational and community service needs of the Tri-Cities area.

The degree with which the community colleges of Illinois are willing to change their traditional delivery system in the 1970s and 1980s will determine whether the community college movement will meet the needs of the people and the hopes of those who pushed for its statewide acceptance in the 1960s and early 1970s.

Rotary aids 'Salvation Army'

The Granite City Rotary Club voted last week to contribute $30,000 to the Salvation Army's present capital fund campaign to erect a multi-purpose building in the Quad-Cities area.

The funds will be taken from the $2,000 raised by the Rotarians from the joint Rotary-Optimist Camelot benefit auction last year.

The remaining $28,000 will go to the current campaign of the Tri-Cities Area Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA), the Rotarians decided.

President J. H. Hasler presided at the weekly luncheon.

The possibility of entering a city float in the annual state fair parade in Springfield was discussed without final action.

Australian schools place great emphasis on vocational training, utilizing earlier "tracking" of classes than the U. S. but also emphasize theoretical as well as applied knowledge, the Rotarians were told last week by Dr. Paul Wisch, McKinley School principal from 1967 to 1969. He is president of the Colleges of Advanced Education, University of Tasmania.

Language differences were noted and the club was told that Australian laws impose much more severe penalties for illegal property than crimes against persons.

Tourism is the chief Tassie industry, there also are dairy, chocolate, zinc, iron and copper industries, Dr. Wisch noted. He was introduced by Vasil Eftimoff.

Donors respond to blood appeal

Twelve volunteers responded in person yesterday afternoon to an urgent appeal for donors with AB-Negative blood, the rarest type.

The plea was issued by St. Elizabeth Hospital to aid a 24-year-old Granite City mother who was delivered of a stillborn infant. She remains in critical condition today in the hospital's Intensive Care Unit.

Numerous other willing donors called the hospital to offer blood after a sufficient supply was accumulated, a spokesman said.

The patient received eight transfusions of blood donated by an emergency transfusion procedure, it was learned.

Major economies by Howlett

Since Michael J. Howlett became secretary of state in January 1973, his office has reduced services while reducing staff, he told the Galesburg Rotary Club Thursday.

He said total personnel of his office dropped four per cent in his first year as secretary.

"When I was elected in November 1972, the office had 4,250 employees," said Howlett.

"By July 1, we will have it down to 3,800, a drop of 12 1/2 per cent."

"Our office is a professionalized personnel operation. Professional qualification, rather than political influence, is the controlling factor in filling positions."

"We have reorganized the office. Twenty-two agencies which had been responsible separately to the secretary have been grouped into six departments, each headed by an executive assistant."

"This lets me delegate responsibility with clear channels of authority. With this structure, we have tightened fiscal controls, checked the deployment of our manpower and watched for new ways to provide more service at less expense."

"On my first day in office, I ordered removal of all photographs of public officials from our driver license stations."

"We replaced them with posters of a toll-free telephone number—800-252-8880—so any citizen with a complaint or suggestion could call the secretary of state in Springfield."

"We put the same number in signs on counters and a postcard insert in the new Rules of the Road booklet."

"We tell them this: As taxpayers you pay our salaries. You are entitled to prompt, courteous service. If you do not feel you have received that service, please call me, toll-free."

"With the help of a task force of educators, we published a new edition of Rules of the Road. It cost 8.9 cents a copy, compared to 17.3 cents for the last booklet when it was first issued in 1971."

"The Bicycle Rules of the Road also was revised and simplified. We produced 500,000 copies for 3.3 cents apiece. The last edition, a million copies printed in 1971, cost 11.9 cents each."

"Last year, we closed 45 driver's license stations. The full load of work is being handled in the remaining 91 facilities at a saving of $750,000 a year to the taxpayer."

"Some communities resisted the closing. But we could not allow state employees to sit idle in little-used stations while license applicants elsewhere were waiting in line for service."

"We cut off a laundry and cleaning allowance of $12 a month for uniformed personnel. Our uniformed employees will keep their clothes clean at their own expense, like the rest of us. This measure saves the taxpayers $92,000 a year."

"We stopped the purchase of so many papers for executives. We canceled subscriptions to 263 papers and substituted a private clipping service at lower cost. These two steps saved $17,500 a year."

"We got out of the floral business. A greenhouse in Springfield, which had supplied plants and flowers for the Capitol complex, was phased out and demolished."

"The green house cost more than $400 a year and needed substantial repairs. It produced 13,000 plants a year, but they included 800 Easter lilies sent at state expense as gifts to friends, hospitals, orphanages and senior citizen homes."

"We saved another $150 a month by cutting off music that was piped into the offices. Piped music is all right in a dentist's office, but nobody has proved it helps production of clerical personnel."

"These are a few details. There are hundreds more. In our office, we will never stop looking for new ways to provide better service at lower cost," Howlett pledged.

"Saving money is not an end in itself. We use it to make more of it available for human needs of the people."

"The American taxpayer gives the last collector more than a third of all he earns."

"Anything we can do to cut down unnecessary spending in a government office will make it possible for the taxpayer to concentrate his economic ability to keep our country strong and provide the services people really need."

Venice board approves bond

The Venice Town Board at its meeting last week in Madison approved a resolution accepting a $250,000 bond for Jerry Maeras as tax collector supervisor. Christ Pashoff said the board will check with the legal staff to determine if the bond is sufficient.

A one-day meeting of township officials was held Friday at Nashville, Ill., attended by Benjamin Honorable, Earl Mosley, Albert Topal, Frank Reidelberger Jr., Pashoff and Maeras.

Salary for clerical help over a 10-week period for the tax collector was set by the board at $450 per month.

The board is phasing out its "eviglasses" and hearing aid program. Revenue sharing funds have purchased 26 hearing aids and 1,200 pair of eyeglasses for township residents.

The next regular meeting of the board will be Wednesday, June 19.

JAMES MURRAY

PHILLIP THIGPEN

Urban housing leaders to address conference

Leaders in the field of urban housing will address a national housing conference June 6 and 7 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

James Murray, vice-president and general counsel of the Federal National Mortgage Association, will discuss the operation of the secondary mortgage market, and Phillip Thigpen, vice-president and director of urban housing for Leon N. Weiner and Associates, Wilmington, Del., will speak on "Blacks in the Housing Market: Dilemmas of Income and Race."

Sponsored by the SIUE Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services (CUERS) and the department of economics of the SIUE School of Business, the conference planners, the purpose is to promote formulation of effective housing policy.

Four panel discussions will be featured. Subjects will include: "An overview of the politics of housing in older urban areas: who gets what, when and how?"; "The impact of insufficient income, race and old age on housing delivery: problems of inner city populations"; "The middlemen in the housing delivery system: how are they performing and for whom?"; and "Future directions in housing policy: who stands to benefit?"

In addition to Murray and Thigpen, principal speakers and participants will include: Ira Ehrlich, associate professor of the School of Social Service and director of the Institute of Applied Gerontology, St. Louis University; St. Jerome Pratt, principal, Team Four, Inc., St. Louis.

Brian Boyer, author of "Cities Destroyed for Cash: the FHA Scandal at HUD"; Charles Liebert, housing developer and former director of the St. Louis Land Clearance Authority; Charles Edson, housing attorney and editor of "The Housing and Development Reporter"; and James Zais, housing analyst, the Urban Institute, Washington, D.C.

The conference will be held in the SIUE University Center. SIUE participants will include Robert Mendelson, assistant professor of planning and a research associate with CUERS; Michael Quinn, assistant professor of government and public affairs and a CUERS research associate; Jane Altes, director of CUERS; Jerome Hollenhorst, chairman of the department of economics; and Andrew Kochman, vice-president and provost.

News notes

Bi-State Transit was eliminated from a Downstate mass transit bill in the Illinois House last week but a separate bill will be attempted, Rep. Horace Calver of Granite City said. The bill had listed $1,600,000, only half of what is being sought.

Students in the Junior Achievement program in this metropolitan area were honored at a banquet last week at Stouffer's Inn, with six scholarships awarded. About 2,000 attended.

Mrs. Pamela Gatto, 28, East St. Louis, whose home was among those visited in mistaken drug raids, pleaded guilty last week in another incident. She admitted selling 54 grams of cocaine valued at $2,700 on Oct. 10, 1972, to two agents of the federal Drug Assistance Law Enforcement squad. The agents were among ten acquitted this spring of violating the law in the way they conducted drug raids.

The Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution sought by women's rights advocates failed a third time in two years in the Illinois legislature last week. The Senate sponsor postponed a roll call when it appeared it would fail four votes short of the 36 needed for approval.

Pres. Richard Nixon said last week he will reject all future House Judiciary Committee requests and demands for tape recordings. The committee is studying whether to recommend his impeachment.

Former Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner is in satisfactory condition after being hospitalized in Chicago due to chest pains.

Yemm plans to remain in post

Ralph Yemm, deposed as chairman of the Madison County Community Mental Health Board (Law 708), said last week he will not give up his seat. Wayne Bridgewater because his term is not over until July 1.

Yemm said Bridgewater is not legally entitled to serve as chairman because "two politicians should not be on the board."

Bridgewater, elected as chairman by a 4-3 vote this month, is a member of the Madison County Board. Lloyd Patterson, a new board secretary, is Venice city clerk.

Yemm classed "politician" as an occupation and said the law limits any occupation to one place on the board.

He added that he "as opposed hiring of a clerk-type. I because the job opening was not advertised in a newspaper."

KA-HO LAKE ESTATES

"The affordable Vacation-type Community"

Don't get caught in the gas shortage this year!

Come to Lovely...
KA-HO LAKE ESTATES

Sometimes the best rewards in land investment can be almost right at home! One great thing about KA-HO Lakes is it's convenient location at Mt. Olive, Ill., and the fact that you can be there and back on probably less than a half tank of gas!

This year, when you plan your vacation, do it wisely with KA-HO. Let the future and invest those "vacation dollars" where you can have something left over of permanent value, yet enjoy each vacation or every week-end whenever you want.

Plan towards the future or build towards your retirement and do it the easy way... yet, still leave to home, your family and friends, instead of miles away in some far-off remote part of the country where, perhaps, you'll never see them again!

KA-HO Lake Estates is one of the rare private communities in Illinois that has separate rates set aside for campers, mobile homes, and permanent residents because we do our own.

The pain is still
With our hearts,
And tears still fill our eyes.
For it has been,
Three years ago today
You said, that last good bye.
We miss you in so many ways.
And long to see your smile,
To talk with you
Just one more time
If only for a while.
It was so hard
To see you go.
But God, He knows what's best,
And in heaven with Him,
You are this day
The place of peace and rest.

Truck licenses due July 1

Michael J. Howlett, Illinois secretary of state, has announced that 1.1 million pre-printed renewal applications have been mailed to owners of second division vehicles for 1974-75 registrations.

Howlett said that 900,000 renewal applications, pre-printed by computer for the convenience of Illinois motorists, were mailed to

"This is the first year that pre-prints are required for second division vehicles licensed on a fiscal year basis," said Howlett. "Use of pre-prints first became mandatory for 1974 calendar year registrations."

Howlett emphasized that current 1973-74 second division plates expire June 30.

New program to solve unmet needs of youth

By JOAN MURARO
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Every teacher has one from time to time. The kid who doesn't do the work, the bully, the troublemaker, the showoff, the kid headed for trouble.

The kid the teacher often wishes would just disappear. To keep that youngster from disappearing, or worse yet, reappearing in court in big trouble, the Office of Vocational and Educational Services in the State Department of Corrections is launching a new program which — ideally, if realistically — would put the staff out of business if it succeeded.

Code-named "MUNY" for Meeting Unmet Needs of Youth, the program is the brainchild of Raymond J. Quick, vocational and educational services director.

Joining his staff in an expansion of the Chicago office will be Helena Kerner, 25, daughter of former Gov. Otto Kerner.

Miss Kerner, who worked with the Cook County juvenile court for the past three years, will serve as school entry coordinator in the MUNY program.

She will assist youngsters who have been under the corrections department's custody in their return to the normal public school classroom, and also will help those being put into the department's facilities to make an adjustment to that new environment.

Quick said the basic idea of the program is to catch the future delinquent boy or girl and attempt to turn him or her around before getting into serious, permanent trouble.

"It's recognized," Quick said, "that most delinquent kids are in a failure syndrome — they've gotten used to the idea that they always fail."

"We feel the teachers and the school administrators should look at their own processes, and see if it is the teacher or the school that's failing instead."

One way to do this, he said, has already been adopted by the corrections department in its 12 juvenile institutions.

There are only two grades for educational or vocational programs — passing or incomplete.

"Failure" is impossible under this system, and when a younger returns to public schools, the grades the department sends with him show only that he has successfully passed a certain level, or that he still has work to finish in order to pass.

To encourage participation among all public schools, Quick, his staff and various instructors from the roughly 150 in the department's juvenile facilities have been making speaking appearances before school groups. They also have been writing about the program, urging participation, in various professional publications. Response so far has been good, he said.

Plans are being made for an October meeting bringing together representatives from all areas of public education, at which time Quick hopes to be able to present concrete guidelines and definite information about the program to those at whom it is aimed.

"Basically," Quick said, "the goal is to keep people out of institutions. I guess in a sense we are saying that the public schools must cure the ills of society."

"I realize they can't. But I think it's a copout to say, 'Society's ills are society's problems, not ours.' Somebody has to at least try."

In his own career as a school administrator, Quick said, he has heard principals repeatedly say, "If I could just get rid of 10 or 15 kids in my school, we'd have a great school."

"It's those very youngsters, he believes, who need more attention, not less, in an attempt to find what needs they have which aren't being met, and which are then resulting in socially unacceptable behavior."
